Director of Health Initiatives

Foundation Communities (FC) seeks a highly motivated, entrepreneurial leader with a public health background to oversee the development and implementation of programming that helps our affordable housing residents lead healthier, more productive lives.

Primary Responsibilities:

- Assess and understand resident needs and interests around health and wellness and use to inform department programming
- Develop and maintain a comprehensive department work plan with annual goals and target outcomes
- Supervise and coach Health Initiatives team members to ensure effective service delivery, successful execution of responsibilities, and professional development
- Offer a menu of on-site services to residents and community members across FC properties, including access to healthy food, fitness activities, chronic disease management and education, smoking cessation classes, etc.
- Organize and implement events, such as health fairs, mobile screenings and walk/run races, that connect residents with services and promote a culture of health at FC properties
- Provide oversight to the Child and Family Clinical Case Management program
- Lead health and wellness programming for FC staff and achieve annual participation targets
- Establish partnerships and collaborations with other community organizations to enhance programming and connect FC to the larger public health ecosystem
- Foster positive relationships across FC departments to ensure effective collaboration in service delivery
- Develop metrics and measurement systems for assessing the impact of the department's work and produce reports for internal decision-makers and key funders
- Work closely with the FC grants department to identify and pursue funding opportunities and to ensure all funder requirements are met
- Remain knowledgeable about public health issues and public policy and help FC utilize this information in program planning and implementation

Qualifications

- Master's Degree in public health or related field plus at least four years of experience developing and implementing programming in a community setting; Bachelor's Degree with additional relevant experience will be considered
- Experience managing and developing staff and working with a diverse set of community partners
- Strong understanding of Social Determinants of Health and ability to translate into actionable strategies
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills and the ability to use and present data

To Apply: Submit a resume and thoughtful cover letter with salary requirements to julian.huerta@foundcom.org. No phone calls, please.
